Dear Manue a/Mañu,

thank you very much for your ma .

I apo og ze for the de ayed rep y.

Except o , sa t, o ve and ettuce I co ected a ngred ents wh ch you ment oned on the photo be ow.

For o and o ve we have nowadays a very good source: O ve-O , back and green o ves d rect y de vered from Greece w th connect on to pr vate fam y bus ness from Southern Europe n Greece.

I am ook ng very much forward - I w try your Papa a a Huanca na rec pe tomorrow even ng and w et you know about the resu t.

Your rec pe w be ma n-course tomorrow. Starter w be a soup w th "Bär auch" (German), wh ch s n Eng sh ke: w d-gar c, wood-gar c, bear s car c. R ght know t s grow ng n the woods a over around V enna and Austr a. I w send you photo and rec pe after the exper ment tomorrow.

On the web-page

I found the nfo: "my great grandfather was born n Austr a."

Where d d your grandfather come from n Austr a? Do you know more deta s n the part/ocat on n Austr a? Austr a s much sma er than Peru

Hope to share w th you more nfo soon about my Peru-Cook ng-Exer ments n V enna/Austr a.

One of my grandmothers came from very northern part of Austr a, very cose to Czech-Repub c, wh ch has a though c mate and one of the ma n vegetab es n th s area are potatoes. Last summer I made a onger b cyc e-tour w th my w fe from Germany n th s area of Austr a and we v s ted a "Potatoe-Museum" n a v age. I remember Peru was ment oned.

Gra n, R ce, Corn, Potatoe.

There are many countr es w th the or gn of gra n, r ce and corn. There s Peru connected w th potatoe.

Best Regards

Robert
